Farm Picnic Big Success

Lake County Farmers Have Gala
Day at Diamond Lake

The sixth annual picnic of the Lake County Farm Bureau which was held at Diamond Lake on Wednesday, was, according to the verdict of the officers of the organization and those who attended the biggest and best ever held.

In the neighborhood of two thousand people gathered at the grounds during the day and the evening crowd seemed to surpass that number by several hundred.

There was something of interest happening throughout the day and the varied program was run off on schedule, to the credit of those enterprising officers who were in charge.

The day was ideal, perhaps a trifle too much so for those farmers who were forced to improve the opportunity to finish threshing their grain at the expense of a good time at the picnic, but the business houses at both Mundelein and Libertyville were closed, permitting the citizens of both towns to attend in a body.

The forenoon was given up to the band concert by the band from the Highland Park High School, the preliminaries in the horse shoe contest and the judging of the poultry exhibits of which there was a nice display by the various poultry clubs of the county.

Congressman Gives Address

The afternoon program included several high class vaudeville acts and a stirring address by Hon. R. Rathbone, congressman at large from Illinois. This was followed by a long list of contests and athletic events which kept the crowd amused throughout the afternoon.

Willard Darrell won first place in the hog calling contest with Chris Jensen a close second. Beatrice Horan and Agnes Guerin were the winners in the chicken calling, in the order named. Anton DeGaff, aged 65, carried off the honors as the oldest Farm Bureau member present and LeRoy Kane the youngest.

As usual, A. O. Rockenback had no competition in the largest family contest and won with only nine present. P. E. Benong traveled a distance of 25 miles to attend the picnic and was given the palm for his journey.

Horsehoe Tossers in Lively Contest

The horse shoe pitching contest was a hotly contested affair and wound up with the two Joes, Yore and Atkinson in the lead in the Farm Bureau class with Schreck and Huffman second. The open contest was won by Walker and Jacobson. Anderson and Traut taking second. The grand championship medal was awarded to Walker and Jacobson.

William Whigham got back from his vacation trip in the northern wilds in time to defend his title as the first white man born in Lake County. A check of the crowd showed four members of the G. A. R. present; Alfred Ames and H. L. Burdick of Mundelein, Herman Wheeler of Libertyville and George Prouth of Wauconda.

The tug of war between the farmers and the business men was the big feature of the afternoon and the almsy sons of the soil won handsily from their bulkier but softer opponents.

A large gathering was present for the evening program at 6:30, and from that time on the crowds kept coming in until both pavilions and the grounds surrounding them were packed with people.

The crowd was handled in fine shape with only a few minor accidents and to judge from the expressions of those who enjoyed the event, the Farm Bureau officials made good their promise of a bigger and better picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hembrook and sons Rollo and Virgil and daughter Beulah have returned from a two week trip in southern Wisconsin and Illinois. They had one big time seeing all the old friends and neighbors. They brought with them Mr. Hembrook's nephew, Edward Hembrook, of Mukwanago, who will visit here for a short time. Antioch Traffic Officer Tenders Resignation

Constable Thomas E. Burnett, who has served as traffic officer for the village of Antioch for the past two years, Wednesday tendered to the village board his resignation to take effect immediately.

During his two years service for the village, Mr. Burnett has been very lenient with motorists, but nevertheless, his efficient handling of congested traffic conditions here has been the subject of much favorable comment. Before coming to Antioch, Mr. Burnett was in the employ of Lake county as motorcycle policeman. During his career as a motor cop Mr. Burnett has had many amusing experiences and has learned a great deal about the ways of the motorists—among them that the favorite libel of the speed stories are myths, as the fastest driver Officer Burnett ever captured was a girl doing 65 miles per hour in a Hudson.

Mr. Burnett has not announced his plans for the future.

Aged Lake County School Teacher Insists She's 89

Taught the Avon Center School

Near Lake in 1862;

Her Daughter Here.

Came to WKGN. By Boat

The following article clipped from the Libertyville Independent is of especial interest to many residents of this vicinity who are personally acquainted with Mrs. Warner, who spent the greater part of her life in Antioch and vicinity. She is a sister of the late J. B. Burnett, and although her home has been in Chicago for the past few years, she has many relatives and close friends in this village, all of whom unite in wishing her many more happy returns of the day.

When Mrs. Philena Burnett Warner, who was the guest of honor Sunday evening at a birthday anniversary party given at the home of her son, Dr. Burnett Deway Warner of Chicago, discovered there were only 88 candles on the cake prepared by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Warner, she assumed the prerogative of a former school teacher and chided her children on their arithmetic.

"When one was born in 1837 one is 89 years old in 1926, according to the way I taught arithmetic," said Mrs. Warner who in 1892 taught the Avon Center school near Grayslake.

"And don't forget," she added, "that next year I will be 90 years old."

So another candle was placed on the already crowded cake and the party proceeded.

Her two daughters and their husbands, Dr. and Mrs. John Fisher, 4168 Greenview avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lewis, of Waukegan, were also guests at the party, as were some of her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Mrs. Warner has eight grandsons and four great grandchildren—two boys and two girls—and wears a service star of the World war bearing four stars, two of her grandsons seeing service in Europe and two at Great Lakes. One of Mrs. Lewis' sons is now in camp at Camp Roosevelt at Sheridan.

Mrs. Warner was born in Lyons, Wayne county, New York, of Revolutionary stock, and came to Lake county, Illinois, in 1847 with her parents. She recalled the trip by boat from New York state home to Waukegan.

About twenty five little friends helped Virgil Horton celebrate his sixteenth birthday last Monday. A good time was had by all in spite of the wet weather. Virgil received many nice gifts.

Mrs. Joe Horton entertained the Mystic Worker Juvies last Friday. A good time was had by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan La Roy, of Chicago, visited at the home of their cousins the J. C. James family, over the weekend.

NEWS ESTABLISHED FORTY YEARS AGO

With this issue the Antioch News not only enters into its fortieth year but makes its first appearance under the management of its new owner, Homer B. Gaston, former Editor of the Richmond Gazette.

During the past thirty-nine years this paper has changed hands but this paper has changed hands four times. Its founder the late J. J. Burke, conducted the business for about fifteen years, selling to A. B. Johnson in 1901. Mr. Johnson, after conducting the business for almost twenty years, sold to the firm of Horan, Wood, and Woodhead, in June of 1921. The latter two partners with drawing and John L. Horan was left as sole owner, and he in turn disposed of the business to Mr. Gaston who takes charge this week. The Antioch News first made its bow to the public as a small hand bill printed on colored paper. From this small beginning it has grown to its present six column eight pages all home print. It was first published in a small upstairs room on a site near that now occupied by the Antioch Theatre where it remained until it with several other enterprises went down in the corner fire. It was next published in the rooms on the second floor of the building which stood on the present site of the Powles buildings. From there it was moved to its present home.

VETERAN POSTAL EMPLOYEE RESIGNS

Wednesday morning the public missed one of the most familiar faces from its accustomed place in the Antioch post office. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Mr. Herman Bock, who has the position of assistant Post Master for the past past twenty years. Mr. Bock entered the service under Postmaster Williams while the office was located in a portion of the Williams Bros. store on the west side of Main street. All through his many years of work at the window he has given the public prompt, courteous and efficient service, and he will be greatly missed by the many patrons of the office.

An examination was held in July to determine his successor, but up to the present time the appointment has not been made.

TO BROADCAST FROM W.J.J.D.

On Friday morning at 9:15, C. L. Kutil, Director of the Department of Vocational Agriculture of the Antioch High School will broadcast the subject of "Our Agricultural Projects" from station W. J. J. D. Mooseheart, Ill.

One of his students, Elmer Barthel will also broadcast at that hour on "Raising Broilers." These programs put on at 9:15 each day this week are broadcasted from the Central States Fair through W.J.J.D. Mr. Kutil, Elmer Barthel, Homer Edwards, and Ward Edwards are spending the week at Aurora exhibiting a truck load of poultry and a school exhibit and have been asked to be on the program.

High School Students are especially requested to listen. Things may be said about them.

Antioch Poultry Boys Sweep Aurora Fair

Local Lads Win 16 out of Possible
21 firsts

Hundreds of thousands of people at the Central States Fair at Aurora stop and pay respects to the large exhibits of poultry sent to the fair by the boys and girls of Antioch. Considerable competition was encountered but the selection of well bred strains helped the local boys and girls to win 16 firsts, 13 seconds, and 6 thirds. Only 5 firsts were secured by club members from other parts of the state of Illinois.

Laurel Van Patten, an Antioch boy, won first Barred Plymouth Rock Cockerel and Harold Kennedy took second. Elmer Barthel first on pullet and Harold Kennedy second.

Harold Christensen made a clean sweep in the White Plymouth Rock class taking three firsts on cockerel, pullet and pen. Richard Chinn took second and third in each of the cockerel and pullet class.

Homer Edwards won 1st on White Wyandotte cockerel, 2nd on pullet and 2nd on pen. Ward Edwards took 2nd on cockerel, 1st on pullet and 1st on pen. Wm. Nelson took 3rd on pen.

Elvin Keulman won 1st on R. C. Rhode Island Red cockerel and also on pullet. Harold Nielsen won 1st on S. S. Rhode Island Red cockerel and Niels Nielsen 2nd on pullet.

Harry Johnson took 1st on Silver Laced Wyandotte cockerel. Lillian Wells, 2nd on Buff Plymouth Rock cockerel.

Philip Simpson won 1st on Andena cockerel, 2nd on pullet, and 2nd on pen.

Wm. Schwenk won 2nd on White Leghorn cockerel, 1st on pullet, 2nd on White Leghorn cockerel, 1st on pullet and 1st on pen.

John Nielsen took 3rd on Black Minorca cockerel, and 3rd on pullet. Several Buff Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Silver Laced Wyandottes were disqualified, but his experience for the young exhibitors.

ANTIOCH SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. 7.

The Antioch Township High School will open on Tuesday morning, Sept. 7. Arrangements are being made to accommodate a large number of students, but it is certain that crowded conditions will prevail until the completion of the new addition to the high school building. Antioch will then have a fine and complete a building as can be found in any town of its size in this locality.

On Sept. 7th will be the opening of the fall term of the Antioch Grade school. All children are to be at the school house Monday morning to get prepared for the following term. The eight grade diplomas are at Mrs. Mary Maplethorpe's. She is holding them there until she receives Mr. McTaggart's signature, but if any one who has a diploma and wants it with out his signature may have it by calling for it at Mrs. Maplethorpe's.

RICHMOND MAN BUYS ANTIOCH NEWS

Plant of Antioch News Sold Monday to Homer B. Gaston

The Antioch News is issued under new management this week, the local publication plant having been sold by John L. Horan to H. B. Gaston, formerly of Richmond, Ill., on Monday of this week, the new owner assuming charge immediately.

The new owner is not an entire stranger to this locality, as he was engaged in the printing business in Richmond, Ill., for more than eight years and has an extensive acquaintance in the the western part of the Antioch newspaper field. Last May his two publications, The Richmond Gazette and The Genoa City Broadcaster, were sold to Mr. Albert L. Johnson. With the exception of a months vacation during this summer, Mr. Gaston has been engaged continuously in the printing and publishing business for about twenty years.

It is with a feeling of regret that the former publisher relinquishes the business to other hands, but he feels the need of a rest from the grind of newspaper work, and it is possible that he may engage in a different line of business, however he has not announced his plans for the future. Mr. Horan is very grateful to those who have patronized him during his business career in Antioch and the very kindest appreciation and thankfulness is extended to his many patrons and friends.

In the conduct of the business the new owner will have the assistance of the present excellent staff of employees of the News with the exception Mr. Theo. Kunda who has resigned his position here with the intention of starting this week for a tour of the west in company with Mr. William Westerfield.

The new publisher very gratefully acknowledges the very material assistance he has received in the issuance of the News this week.

Antioch Defeats Colored Stars

Hartford Giants on Short End of 7-4
Score Sunday Afternoon

The local baseball team handed out a 7-4 defeating to the Hartford Giants (the fast colored team from Chicago) last Sunday at the Antioch Park, before the largest crowd of the season.

It certainly was a game worth seeing because it combined a pretty six inning pitching duel, several innings of slugging the ball, some very fast fielding and a lot of comical stuff pulled off by the colored boys. The colored boys scored a run in the first inning on a walk, steal and a single by Jones, but the Antioch crew couldn't seem to hit the slow curves of Thomas until the sixth when they scored twice and took the lead. This was accomplished because Stelinger walked, Sullivan doubled after Lasco had popped to the pitcher trying to hunt and Britton lined a pretty single to right.

The Giants momentarily tied the score in the first half of the seventh but Antioch came right back and cinched the game with a rally of 4 runs off of two pitchers. Antioch seemed to take a new lease on life after the score was tied and they immediately started their famous slugging. Four clean hits, two base on balls and an error counted 4 runs before the colored players (Continued on Page 8.)

FIREMEN TO VIE IN TUG O' WAR

Preparations are being made by the local fire department to attend the carnival at Grayslake on Monday afternoon, Sept. 6. The local firemen will engage in a contest with the Grayslake firemen, either a tug o' war or a water fight, this to be decided at a special meeting of the department on Friday evening.

The three day carnival at Grayslake, Sept. 4, 5, and 6, is given to celebrate the opening of the Grayslake pavement and is being sponsored by the Fire Department and Citizens Association.

Chicago Northwest Favored Region

Chicago Realtor Sees Great
Future for This Locality

That the entire territory northwest of Chicago is a favored section is the opinion of Mr. D. F. Quinlan, prominent realtor with offices in Woodstock and Chicago. Mr. Quinlan expressed his views in a recent letter to a friend who resides in a neighboring village, and the realtor has written in such complimentary terms of the desirability of this locality that the News is printing a portion for the letter.

"The trend is northwest," writes Mr. Quinlan. "They will never build a railroad across Lake Michigan and the great northeast will always go around the south end of Lake Michigan; Chicago is destined, on account of its geographical location to become the largest city in the world—she is at present the largest grain market, the leading flour, stock and manufacturing market besides being the greatest railroad center in the world. They have taken 35,000 acres out of Cook county for acres out of Cook county for Forest Preserves which means that they can never build houses that they crops on this vast acreage to house or feed a fast growing population; meaning that the territory contiguous to this fast growing wonder city will jump by leaps and bounds. The truck gardens that once fed the old Chicago are being replaced by flat buildings, homes, factories, railroad yards and terminals—twice, three times as many people to feed and their gardens gone. What does this mean with our network of railroads which will soon be electrified, the numerous and increasing cement highways reaching out into our rich farming and lake region and the growing tendency of the city dweller to get a breath of fresh air?"

"I have been among the city people for years and I find that the cry of a child in one of these big flat buildings means eviction. You may have a pug dog, a poll parrot, canary birds, but not children, which leads back to the old saying 'that the pendulum will swing back every so often.' The law of averages governs and the American people are going back to raising children. God bless them. How much more wonderful the cry of a human than the bark of a pug dog or the squawk of a parrot."

"So the three room in-a-door bed, kitchenette flats are on the wane. Young America wants the open air, the free life, with room to turn around and where are they going to get it and why are they going to get it—northwest of Chicago and why, because they can't go east on account of the lake, they won't go south and ride on the buses and trains with the colored population, they can't go along the north shore unless they are in the millionaire class; so the northwest wins."

"Where can you find a better bunch of counties than Walworth, Kenosha, Lake and Meliery? was Mr. Quinlan's parting shot in a postscript to his letter."

At the Theatres

The new Bartola pipe organ recently installed in the Antioch Theatre is an added attraction that is proving very popular at the local amusement house. Although installed just a week ago it has become well advertised and great crowds have featured each night's performance. Mrs. Gedge, of Waukegan, is organist. Manager A. J. Wolak expresses himself as being well pleased with the new attraction at his popular amusement place.

"Please Get Married." New York's latest farcical success, is now playing at Clarke & O'Shea's Majestic Theatre, Waukegan. This feature show is said to be attracting large crowds each night.

For the week preceding Labor day an exceptionally fine program is being shown at the Crystal Theatre Antioch Thursday "Thank You," Friday, "Love Thief," Saturday, "Wolfheart," Sunday, "Buck Jones."

The Need

The great and crying need of the Dairymen of the Chicago Dairy District at this time is a real close communion organization.

Probably no one class of Milk Producers need the help of an organization more than the man who has not tested his cows. He finds himself among many fires. On the one hand is the awful expense of testing or changing his herd and upon the other hand he finds that if he does change or test his herd, he may find himself without a market for his product. The dealer saying to him we cannot take you on now as we have a surplus, and then again he is facing a condition which means a low price for his product if he is fortunate enough to get the market or he is forced to continue skimming and taking a low price for his product.

This man who anticipates testing his herd, or is forced to continue skimming is not alone in this matter, for the men who tested early or who have tested later are not only facing the low price for their product, but find themselves without a market as in the case at Zenda, Wisconsin and Lake Zurich, Illinois. The plant at Lake Zurich having closed on Sunday, August 22, and the plant at Zenda, closing on August 31. These are only two examples of what is taking place and what is to come.

Why then should the Dairymen neglect the only hope through which he has any redress, (his association) and take a chance of going it alone. He knows well the result of going it alone. He has had his taste of that kind of treatment and knows very well that it is not the absent treatment kind either, for the people who do the treating (the doctors) are always present either in person or in the form of the inspectors telling you where to head in and where to head out. We are aware of the fact that the organization does not always get all it goes after, nor all that it ought to get. But we do know that what is gotten has always come through organization. When men stand together as one, in a body, resistance is strong; but when men are scattered into small flocks or individually, their strength and influence is taken away from them and they must submit to whatever is thrust upon them.

We come to you, dairy farmers, at this time urging you to rally to the support of your Association, with all your energy, not alone with your money, but with your membership. For it is numbers which count in this case. With men we can do things. It is MEN, Strong, Determined MEN that we plead.

SAVE LEAVES

As alfalfa leaves contain about two-thirds of the feeding value of the plant, an effort should be made to get the hay into the stack or mow with as large a proportion of leaves as possible.

DISEASE OF OLD

MEADOWS WEEDS

Land kept in meadow for many years is likely to become foul with weeds of various kinds. The introduction of a cultivated crop and a grain crop soon disposes of most of the weeds.

The second accident of the season on Hulen's bridge occurred Sunday afternoon when Louis Feldschan lost control of an Essex he was driving west over the bridge, in passing a Ford, collided with the Ford and was turned into the west side of the bridge. Both front wheels of the Essex hung over the river and the iron railing was broken. Had the accident occurred in the middle of the bridge where the railing is still badly bent from the first accident nothing could have saved them from going into the river. Mr. Feldschan had his nose half torn off, while his wife had a bad gash in her forehead and their daughter was bruised and cut. Emily Storey and Morris Feldschan of Kenosha, who were riding with them were hurt also. They were taken to Dr. Becker's, at Silver Lake, where first aid was administered.

CENTRAL STATES FAIR PROGRAM TO COST $150,000

Great Amusement Features Are Booked for Big Event at Aurora, August 27 to September 4.

RODEO OPENS ON AUGUST 30

Greatest Riders in Country to Compete — Huge Patriotic Fireworks Spectacle Each Night—Balloon Race on Last Day.

An international balloon race in which half a dozen of the world's greatest pilots will compete, a $75,000 fireworks pageant and display, a dozen of the greatest hippodrome acts in the outdoor amusement world, more than 50 shows on the Great White Way, Western Stampede, championship auto races, crossing collision between a locomotive and an automobile, and scores of other features will furnish entertainment for the thousands from over the Middle West who will attend the fifth annual Central States exposition at Aurora, August 27 to September 4. The program, Secretary Manager Clifford R. Trimble announces, will be the most elaborate ever staged on a fair grounds in America and will cost the association more than $150,000.

The night show, which in past years has given the big Aurora fair a national reputation, will be even bigger and better than the one a year ago which attracted more than 150,000 persons to the huge grand stand and bleachers. Agents of the World Amusement company have been busy since last fall combing this country and Europe for feature acts, with the result that the best that money can secure have been contracted.

Patriotic Pageant

As the closing feature of the big night show, the gorgeous fireworks pageant, "1776," with a cast of 500 persons and settings costing thousands upon thousands of dollars will be staged. It is the biggest spectacle of the kind ever staged. It was prepared especially for the Sesquicentennial at Philadelphia to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. More than a ton of fireworks will be shot off on the six nights.

Automobile races in which some of the most daring drivers in the country will compete will be staged on the mile track the first Saturday and Sunday, August 28 and 29. More than a score of speed demons will compete for the $15,000 in prizes hung up by the association.

The second annual Central States Western Stampede and Rodeo will open the first Monday of the fair, August 30, and will be staged every afternoon, closing on the last day, when the championships will be awarded. More than 75 of the world's greatest cowboys and cowgirls will compete, just twice as many as last year. Three carloads of wild steers have been shipped from Texas. Two carloads of wild horses from the western plains have also arrived at the fair grounds, to be used by the cowboys and cowgirls in the bucking broncho contests. A number of the riders have been at Exposition park for a week preparing for the contests. The admission to the rodeo, one of the biggest of the year in the entire country, is 65 cents.

Balloon Race

One of the greatest crowds that ever gathered at the big park will be on hand the last day of the fair, Saturday, September 4, to witness the start of the big international balloon race. The huge balloons will be moored in the center field of the race track all week where they may be inspected by fair visitors. The race will be the second ever staged in this section of the country.

As an added attraction to the rodeo every afternoon there will be a race for a crossing between a locomotive and an automobile. A machine will be wrecked every afternoon to demonstrate to the huge fair crowds when a motorist attempts to beat a speeding train over a crossing.

The Clarence Warham shows, with more than 50 shows and riding devices, will occupy the Great White Way. It is the biggest company of the kind in the world.

Roy Smith's Royal Scotch band, one of the greatest musical organizations in the world, will supply music in front of the grand stand afternoon and evening.

All Highways to Big Aurora Fair Are Paved

Motorists from throughout the Middle West who attend the fifth annual Central States Fair and Exposition at Aurora, August 27 to September 4, will find paved roads all the way to the main entrance to Exposition park, which is located on the Lincoln highway, two miles north of Aurora. There is not a city within a radius of 100 miles of Aurora that cannot be reached by paved road.

There is parking space on the grounds for 20,000 automobiles and roadways leading out of the park four different ways so that motorists need not fear traffic congestion.

SEES NEED FOR STATISTICS ON AUTO ACCIDENTS

Secretary of State Emmerson Favors Law Requiring Detailed Reports.

AN AID TO ROAD SAFETY

Causes of Automobile Mishaps Would Be Guide in Preventive Measures.

Pointing out that statistical data is absolutely essential to any intelligent campaign for the reduction of automobile accidents, Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson today declared himself for the adoption in Illinois of some system requiring reports of all motor vehicle accidents resulting in injury or death.

"Some of the states have adopted laws for the reporting of accidents by the persons involved in them and by public officials," Mr. Emmerson said, "and we need some such law in Illinois."

"We should be able to know what specific faults in driving result in the greatest number of accidents and at what points accidents occur. This would enable us to direct attention and if necessary, legislation toward the elimination of dangerous practices. It would also call attention to highway intersections and grade crossings where dangerous conditions result in frequent accidents."

"A study of this subject is now being made in my department with a view to possible legislation. I believe that some system of this kind is absolutely essential before we can make much headway preventing accidents on the highways of the state."

New York's Law

One of the states which has an accident reporting system is New York. Police authorities and persons involved in accidents are required to make reports to the state giving all of the important details of accidents.

These include information relative to the driver or drivers of the cars involved in the accident, age, sex, driving experience, etc.

The questionnaire also requires information as to whether the accident involved pedestrians, an automobile, a railroad train, a street car, horse-drawn vehicle or other vehicles or colliding with a fixed object. It asks for the number of persons killed or injured, and whether or not they were passengers or pedestrians.

Questions as to Cause

The cause of the accident is gone into fully by the questionnaire with questions as to what the driver was doing; the condition of the driver, whether he had a physical defect or was intoxicated; the condition of the vehicle, including brakes, steering mechanism, headlights, no chassis on a slippery road, etc.; what the pedestrian, if one was involved, was doing; the condition of the pedestrian, whether intoxicated, having a physical defect, confused by traffic, or whether his view was obstructed; the condition of the roadway and the condition of the weather; condition of light and the situation at the railroad crossing if one was involved showing whether gates were down, crossing was guarded or unguarded, and whether or not the proper signals were given.

It also includes questions relative to the names and addresses of witnesses and of persons arrested, if any.

The information card upon which the report is made is 6 by 4 inches in size, and the questionnaire is compact. The person making the report is required only to place a check mark opposite the appropriate question to describe the accident. No writing except names, addresses and numbers is required.

Secretary of State Emmerson says that he is favorably impressed by this system and contemplates working out one of somewhat similar nature for Illinois.

ONE IN 71 IN WORLD OWNS CAR

More Than 24,000,000 Persons Are Automobile Owners — Most of Them Americans.

On the basis of the world population of 1,748,000,000 persons in 1925, more than 24,000,000 own automobiles, making a per capita ownership of one car to every 71 persons.

At least 90 per cent of the automobiles owned are of American manufacture, and the United States with one car to every six persons leads all the rest in the number of cars in operation. Hawaii has one car to every eleven persons and Canada one to every thirteen persons. In Afghanistan there is one car to 1,200,000 persons; in Abyssinia one to 133,333; China has one car for every 91,871 persons. There are only two automobiles in the Solomon Islands with a population of 151,000 persons, while Liberia has 54 cars or one to every 54,258.

LAW OBSERVANCE ONLY CURE FOR DRIVING HAZARD

Enough Law to Make Highways Safe If It Were Observed, Emmerson Says.

CITES APPALLING FIGURES

Mounting Death Rate From Auto Accidents Calls for Action.

Announcing that he intends to do all within his power to make the highways of Illinois safe for automobile drivers, Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson today instructed the automobile investigators working under him to exert themselves to the utmost in enforcing all automobile laws.

"Automobile fatalities in the United States last year totaled 22,500," Secretary Emmerson said. "This is approximately 2,200 more than were killed by automobiles in 1924."

"In Illinois according to reports compiled by the health department, 1,548 deaths resulted from automobile accidents, an increase of 23 per cent over the previous year. Due to lack of an adequate system for reporting automobile accidents in Illinois, it is impossible to say how many persons were injured and whether or not the number of fatalities given is the actual number of persons killed."

More Cars; More Danger

"Although the number of accidents by automobiles is decreasing somewhat, the increase in the number of automobiles in operation results in a steady increase in the total number of fatalities. It is evident that unless something is done toward eradicating recklessness and making highways safer the annual death toll will continue to grow from year to year."

"In this state we have a million and a quarter automobiles. There is one for every 5.5 persons."

"But while this state ranks fourth in total number of automobiles, it ranks twenty-second in per capita ownership. It is reasonable to presume that in this wealthy state, as our good roads increase in mileage, we shall eventually reach the ratio of some of the other states which have one car for every three or four persons. That will mean another million motor vehicles on the highways of the state at some future date."

"Evidently, therefore, the problem of safety on the highways must continue to become more acute in Illinois. To reduce accidents and save lives we must do more than merely discuss the problem."

Laws Must Be Enforced

"Enforcement of the law is absolutely essential. This state ranks among the best in the country, so far as motor vehicle legislation is concerned. There is enough law if it were properly observed. Our problem is to secure more general observance. Strict enforcement by local authorities would be most beneficial, but we must also arouse the interest of automobile drivers to their responsibility."

"The great majority of automobile drivers are law-abiding and operate their cars safely, showing the proper degree of courtesy to other drivers. The small percentage of reckless drivers who care nothing for the safety of others should be made to feel the weight of the hand of the law."

"The limited number of investigators working out of my office have been instructed to co-operate with local officials and make every possible effort to secure better observance of the laws of the road."

HOGS BOOST ILLINOIS FARMERS' INCOME

Hogs will continue to be a good source of income for Illinois farmers throughout the coming fall and winter, according to a report issued by the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission, the livestock selling department at Chicago of the Illinois Farmers Union.

At the present time a wide spread exists in the prices of all grades of hogs. In butcher stock the spread between light and heavy grades is over $4.00 a cwt. with these hogs selling from $10.00 to $14.35 a cwt., the widest price range in many years. With packing sows a difference of $2.25 a cwt. is noted in prices paid for light and heavy weights, which range from $8.50 to $10.75 a cwt. Accumulations of lard stocks due to recent increased slaughter of heavy hogs, continued light foreign trade in lard and hog meat and the increased domestic demand for light hogs and other cuts of pork are given as the reasons for these wide variations in hog prices.

While prices for all classes of hogs will go lower as usual during the autumn and winter, the period of the year's heaviest receipts, nevertheless the report holds considerable encouragement for the Illinois farmer who has hogs to market in these months. The 1926 corn crop is not looked upon as being a factor that will influence the profits of the hog grower materially a few months hence. This year's crop is likely to be somewhat smaller than that to last year owing to a late heavy rains are likely to prolong the drought during the summer in the western states of the corn belt. Where corn has been making good progress during the summer, recent rains, and average price range, growing period, thus increasing the likelihood of danger from early frosts.

Even if the farm price of corn should increase as much as 25 cents a bushel during the next few months, the Farmers Union expects hog prices to continue high enough to make good money for the farmer who has them to sell. This year's crop of spring pigs is expected to bring prices averaging around $11.00 a cwt. this fall and winter at Chicago, the report states. And for packing sows, an average price range. That is the time when diphtheria preying from $8.00 to $9.50 a cwt. is predicted.

HORNS THAT NEVER HOOK

A simple method of dehorning young calves is to use a caustic on the undeveloped horns. Either caustic soda or caustic potash may be employed. Sticks of these about the size of a lead pencil may be bought at drug stores.

For best results, the operation should be performed when the calf is a week or ten days old, when the knob or bud is only loosely attached to the skull and appears more as a part of the skin. Before application of any chemicals of this kind the hair should be clipped off over and around the horns and vaseline applied around the edge of the hair to prevent the caustic from spreading and causing a sore on the skin adjacent to the horn. These caustic sticks should be handled with great care. One end should be wrapped with paper to protect the hands and the uncovered end be slightly moistened and rubbed on the horn but two or three times.

This Thrifty Home Brings Joy to the Rent-Weary

FOR THE family of four or five there is this attractive two-story, six-room house of beveled siding and slate or shingle roof.

One of the interesting features of this house is that every room has a double exposure, while the living room has three sides exposed. Extra windows not shown in the plan may at slight expense be added at either end of the living room. While

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

This type of house affords the utmost in light and cross-ventilation. It would be well to protect it against the extremes of cold and heat by insulation with celotex for the walls and roof. Such insulation will also cut down outside noises to a marked degree, as in addition to its insulating property, celotex is an efficient sound deadener. The living room has the much desired open fireplace and cleverly arranged bookshelves flanking the entrance to the dining room. The sun porch may be put either to the side or the back of the house, according to the builders' wishes or to conform to the demands of the lot.

Leak Made Much Trouble

A leaking cask of wine caused such a growth of mold in a wine cellar that not only was it ruined to the roof, but the door of the cellar would not open and it was necessary to replace the floor boards.

SIXTY ATTEND EDWARDS REUNION

Sixty people were present at the Edwards' Reunion held Sunday, Aug. 29th, at the Bert Edwards' farm in Antioch, Township. They were the descendants of Thomas and Mary Edwards who came from England in 1843 and settled in Lake County a couple of years later. Four generations were represented.

Among those present was Will H. Edwards, of Chicago; formerly of Newport Township, who has been bedridden for nearly three years, having suffered a stroke of paralysis. He was brought an automobile driven by one of his grandsons, Warren W. Edwards. Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Edwards; Valeria, Clifford and Russell Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Edwards and son, Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. George Stump, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards; Ruth, Marian and John Vernon Edwards, of Millburg; Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Edwards; Helen and Marc Edwards, of River Forest; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Edwards; Harold, Pearl, Norman and Doris Edwards, of Antioch; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards; Violet and Betty Jayne Edwards and Lynn W. Harvey, of Waukegan; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Alling, of Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Edwards, and Mrs. Crawford, of Russell; Mr. Chaney N. Edwards; Elizabeth and Tom Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Peters, of Kenosha, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Edwards; Charles Jr., June and Ida Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillings, of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crawford, Frances, and Nina Crawford, of Racine, Wis.; Mrs. Mary Harvey, Mrs. Alice Fenelon and Angie M. Fenelon, of Grayslake; other guests included were: Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Webb, and Miss Eva Webb, of Millburg; Andrew White and Miss Cora White, of Grayslake; Dan Culbert, of Russell; Mrs. P. Christensen, of Chicago; and Miss Mary Dorsey.

The oldest present was George Edwards, 81, who has lived in Lake County nearly eighty years, and the youngest, Doris Janet, six weeks old.

A chicken pie dinner was served at noon. Races, sports, and horse shoe pitching made up the program. Dan Culbert and Chaney Edwards were declared the champion horse shoe pitchers.

It was decided to make the reunion an annual affair.

Absence Of Co. Fair Is Missed Much This Year

Abandonment Is Noticed Especially Because Other Counties
Are Holding Fairs.

Hope For A Resumption

For the first time in more than half a century Lake County is not holding a county fair this year. It has been held for so many years that thousands of Lake county residents have come to look upon it as a permanent feature and the abandonment of the county fair, temporarily, at least, is occasioning much keen regret.

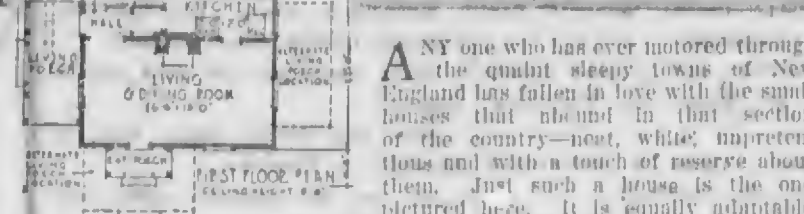

The absence of a county fair in Lake county is emphasized at this time because other counties in this vicinity and throughout Illinois for that matter have held, are holding or are planning to hold their annual fairs within the next week or two.

For a number of years the Lake county fair held at Libertyville has been a losing proposition. Despite the time given it by the promoters it has fallen behind several thousand dollars each year. This, too, despite the fact that patronage has been liberal. Finally the fair grounds and buildings were sold at auction several years ago and the yearly fair plan was abandoned.

Frank T. Fowler, secretary of the Chicago-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, long has expressed the opinion that if it were possible to obtain a more central and more accessible fair ground that the position could be put on a paying basis. Various plans have been discussed but nothing of a definite nature has been done. It may be a long time before Lake county resumes the plan of holding a fair annually.

New England Atmosphere With 1926 Improvements

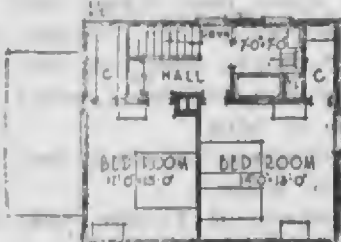

ANY one who has ever motored through the quiet sleepy towns of New England has fallen in love with the small houses that abound in that section of the country—neat, white, unpretentious and with a touch of reserve about them. Just such a house is the one pictured here. It is equally adaptable for town or country, and by merely shifting the living and entrance porch around can be built on a wide or narrow lot without spoiling its architectural style.

The house is sturdily built and has an exterior of wood siding except for the unusual stucco panels that start at the level of the second floor yin-dows. The roof is of stained shingles, preferably moss green, in keeping with the window shutters. A house of this compact style is very easy to heat, especially when the specifications call for insulation throughout with celotex, which prevents heat leakage and keeps the house cool in the summer.

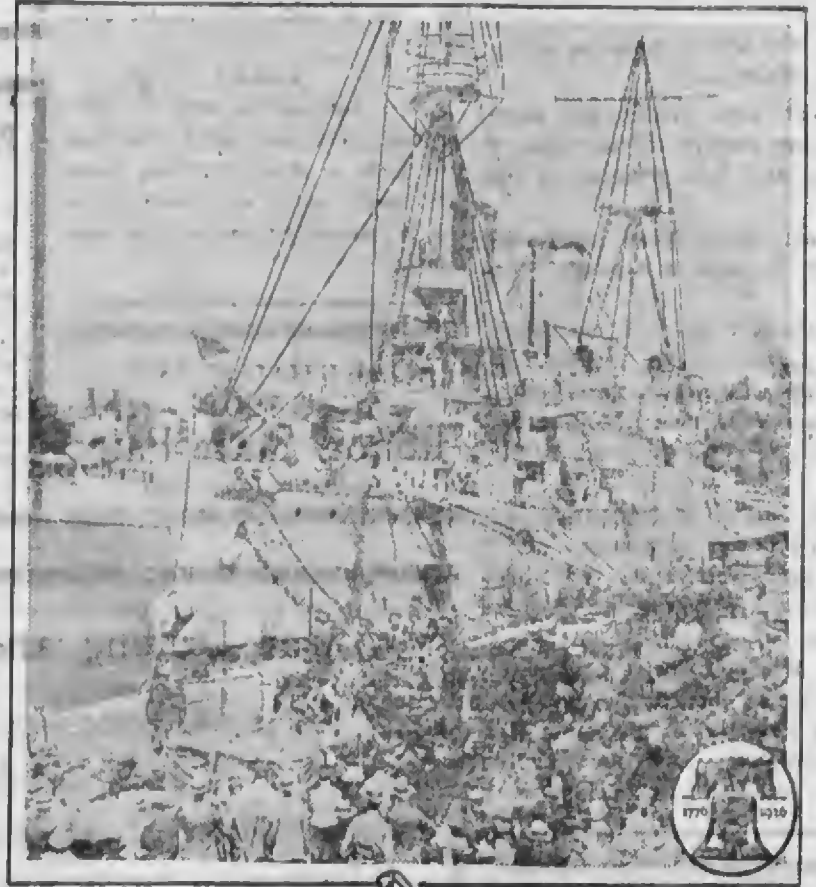

The living and dining rooms are here combined into one large room flooded with light by windows on three sides. The two bedrooms on the second floor each have double exposure and an extra large closet in which a window may be placed.

These entertainers have been brought to the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia where 150 years of American Independence is being celebrated, by the Los Angeles County, California, Chamber of Commerce. The westerners have built a fine old Spanish mission in the Palace of Foreign, Civic, Fashion and Agriculture Display and there show the resources and advantages of their native birth. The musicians and dancers entertain all visitors who enter the patio to rest a bit after doing the exposition. The Exposition continues until December 1.

CHURCH NOTES

ST. IGNATIUS' CHURCH NOTES

Episcopal

Sunday School 9:45.
Morning Prayer 10:30.

Next Sunday will be the Fourteenth after Trinity, commonly called Labor Sunday. Mr. Dixon will take for his topic "Mine" the text being taken from St. Matthew 6:32, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

There was no Sunday of rest, even the many use it today as a day of selfish pleasure without thought of God, until Christianity converted the Roman Emperor Constantine and much against the will of the rulers declared that the seventh day week must stop and the laboring man be given a day of rest for the body, mind and spirit. Many today forget this service of the Christian Church that stands in the midst of perhaps unheeded in his proclamation of the Righteousness of God and His Will for human happiness and joy.

The Christian Church of any community stand forth as a beacon light of justice for all. "Crown and throne may perish, kingdoms rise and wane. But the Church of Jesus Christ will remain." Nine hundred years have gone by and that body stands more powerful than ever standing alone against the world, the flesh, and the devil. On Labor Day let us not forget that Labor Sunday and the first contentions for justice for all men were established by the Christian Church. The favorite text of Theodore Roosevelt would be a good one for those who are interested in social justice, Micah 6:8, "O man what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk with thy God."

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

To all appearances the church is to have a new parsonage. The plans have not been approved yet, in full, but the people want the job done, and when that is the case, nothing can prevent the project from going over.

Subscriptions have been solicited from only a few, and about a fifth of the required amount is now on paper. Please be prepared to say at any time what you can give on a three year period, whenever the committee can get to you. With every one helping this should be assured of success from the start.

Labor Sunday is Sept. 5. The service at the church in the morning will be appropriate. Will you be there? Evening services will begin Sunday September 12, at 7:30.

A Canadian heifer, which went mad on the canal wharf of the Manchester (England) ship canal, swam the canal, scrambled over a railway wall six feet high, and ran for nearly eight miles before it was caught and shot.

Rifle Is Silenced

The National Rifle association says there is no such thing as a silent rifle. It is possible to silence some cartridges by the use of a Maxim silencer attached to the muzzle of the rifle. This silencer is in no way connected to the rifle cartridge.

Queer Street Names

Many streets in London still retain their old names, known for originality and uniformity. For instance, there are "Shoulder of Mutton Alley," "Frying-Pan Alley," "Pickle-Herring Street," and "Crooked-Billet Yard."

Desert Below Sea Level

Death Valley, the name by which Amargosa desert, in Inyo county, eastern California, on the frontier of Nevada, is popularly known, lies at its lowest point, which is Meadham, 427 feet below sea level.

SILENT SICKNESS MOST FATAL SAYS RAWLINGS

Dividing the whole category of human ailments into two groups, those that advertise and those that do not, Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, declares in a bulletin issued here today that the silent whispering sort of sickness is far more deadly than the kind that announces its presence through fever, pain, eruptions and other well known disagreeable manifestations. Diseases of the heart, blood vessels and kidneys contribute less than 10 per cent of the recognized illness and more than 33 per cent of the total mortality while contagious infections, traumatism, cancer and all of the other afflictions that go to make up the 205 officially classified means of demise contributed over 90 per cent of the sickness and less than two-thirds of the deaths.

"Some diseases advertise and some do not," said Doctor Rawlings. "Like still water that runs deep and barking dogs that never bite, the silent whispering diseases are far more deadly than those which make known their presence through fever, nausea, pain, skin eruption and other disagreeable manifestations. Last year, for instance diseases of the heart, kidneys and blood vessels caused 26,413 out of the 77,144 deaths in Illinois. These same ailments contributed less than 10 per cent of the recognized sickness."

"Contagious, infectious diseases, traumatism, cancer, appendicitis and all of the other afflictions that go to make up the 205 causes of death contributed more than 90 per cent of the illness and 50,726 or about 65 per cent of all deaths."

"Contagious and other incapacitating diseases are less deadly because we recognize and fight them. They make us sick and we therefore challenge their progress at every turn with all the resources at the command of medical science and sanitation."

"Heart, blood vessel and kidney diseases steal insidiously upon us. They come gradually, silently. A sudden ailment is silent, speaking only as death stalks across the threshold."

"Periodic health examinations are the only effective means of detecting the presence of these diseases at a time when they are amenable to treatment. This is the only practical weapon yet devised by medical science that may be used to combat a small group of conditions which cause over one-third of all deaths. The silent, whispering ailments that speak only through death must be detected if its mortal result is to be thwarted."

"INSIDE" INFORMATION
To clean waxed floors, remove the film of dirt and wax with a cloth wrung out of warm soapy water, or molstered with turpentine or gasoline. When the floor is clean and dry apply more wax, well rubbed in. Juices in which vegetables are canned should not be thrown away. Since mineral matter and other matter and other soluble materials are dissolved in this liquor it has feed value, and should be utilized.

A good way to cook carrots in the shortest possible time to conserve their vitamins is to cut them on a slicer and cook them in just enough lightly salted boiling water to cover. In 10 minutes or less they will be ready to eat. When drained, seasoned with butter or cream, salt and pepper, and served piping hot; they will appeal to many who protest ordinarily that they "never eat carrots."

GIVE CALVES A CHANCE
Diarrhea, or scours, a very common and often persistent disease of calves, always hinders their growth and development. The most important causes of the disease are irregular feeding, overfeeding, sudden change of feed, fermented feeds, the feeding of dirty or sour milk of diseased cows, the use of dirty milk pails or unclean feed boxes, and damp, dirty stables.

As soon as scours is discovered, separate the affected calf from the others and carefully cleanse and disinfect the pen. The feed should be reduced immediately to about one-half, milk pails cleaned and sterilized, feed boxes cleaned and disinfected, and any other causes mentioned above eliminated.

A few of the more common preparations used to treat the disease are blood meal, a teaspoonful at a feed; white of egg; lime water. A dose of four drops of formalin to each pint of milk has been used to advantage, and a drench of three ounces of castor oil followed by a teaspoonful of a mixture of one part salol and two parts of bismuth also is recommended.

VITAL SEED CORN

A good way to dry ears of seed corn is to bring them, suspending the strings of ears in an open shed or loft, the ears not being permitted to touch one another.

The vitality of seed corn often is reduced by leaving it in a sack or pile for even a day after gathering. With some moisture in the cobs and kernels, the ears begin to sour or mildew in a remarkably short time during warm weather. If left on the plant long after ripening, the kernels may sprout or mildew during warm, wet weather or be injured by freezing.

Seed ears should be picked, therefore, as soon as thoroughly ripe and placed where they will be safe. If they contain much moisture when picked they must be stored in such a way that there will be a free circulation of air around each ear.

DUST AND LICE

A dust bath can not be depended on to rid poultry of lice and mites. Some fowls seldom dust themselves, and those which dust freely never rid themselves of the pests completely. A dust bath does add to comfort of the chickens, especially when they are closely confined. A box about 2 feet square, or larger containing ordinary road dust or fine dirt, may be used for the bath. It should be kept under cover, preferably outside of the chicken house.

Methods which will accomplish complete eradication are, however, much to be preferred. All species of lice attacking poultry may be killed by the application of sodium fluoride among the feathers next to the skin. Do not use the material too freely on young chickens. In applying the powder, put one pinch on the head, one on the neck, two on the back, one on the breast, one below the vent, one on the tail, one on each thigh, and one scattered on the underside of each wing when spread.

Sodium fluoride may also be used for this purpose in the form of a dip—three-fourths to one ounce of the chemical to the gallon of water. For treatment of large flocks this is the most economical and expeditious method, but should only be used on warm, sunny days.

KITCHEN POINTERS

A garnish of whipped cream on milk soups improve their appearance and adds to their food value.

The hard central core of a cabbage has a sweet, peppery flavor which is especially good when chopped and used in salad.

Egg poached in creamed carrots make a dainty and delicious luncheon dish.

Boil beets in their skins, leaving an inch or so stalk to prevent bleeding. Dip in cold water to aid peeling.

Savory fats can be made by cooking beef, pork, and other meat fats with herbs or strong vegetable juices particularly onion, and straining for use in seasoning fries and meat dishes.

HEALTH GRAMS

The advanced guard of winter infections is due to put in appearance about the middle of September. That is the time when diphtheria prevalence usually takes a big jump upwards.

Diphtheria incidence reaches its annual peak in the autumn for the same reason that corn germinates in the spring and grows in the summer while wheat sprouts in the autumn and develops in the spring. For the time being, at any rate, we must be satisfied to know the habits of contagion and fight them on those grounds.

Fever, pains, aches, hemorrhages, nausea, coughing, swelling and other manifestations of illness are the advertising mediums of nature. These are the methods used to indicate the presence of sickness. Afflictions that steal upon people without these signs are far more deadly.

Heart, blood vessel and kidney diseases, for example, quite often steal upon their victims without sign or symptom until too late for effective treatment. At the same time these ailments are responsible for more than one third of all deaths.

Diseases do a lot of teamwork among themselves. Diphtheria or scarlet fever, for instance, may open the door, so to speak, for a fatal heart or kidney disorder that may pursue the victim to an untimely end. Measles frequently introduces pneumonia while rickets and malnutrition may make easy an attack of tuberculosis.

The fatal silent diseases may therefore be scotched in many cases by preventing the less deadly contagious diseases. Trifling ailments do not always leave the body free from insidious scars that may cause trouble in later years.

Vacations end, schools begin, furnace fires are lighted, windows go down and contagious disease prevalence starts to rise almost simultaneously. There must be some relation between these events. At any rate plenty of fresh air and sunshine service rendered by the library.

with neither too little play nor too much work never hurt anybody.

Popular interest in health matters is indicated by the fact that research libraries have more calls for literature on medicine than on any other subject. Last year the John Crerar reference library in Chicago recorded 47,983 loans of medical literature against 46,085 of applied sciences, the nearest competitor. The use of medical literature constituted 24 per cent of the entire service rendered by the library.

LONG-LIVED HARNESS

For washing harness use tepid water, a neutral soap, such as castile or white toilet soap, and a sponge or fairly stiff brush. Hardened grease may be removed without damage to the leather by scraping with a dull knife. Rinse in clean, tepid water, and allow the harness to hang in a warm place until it is no longer wet, but still damp. Then oil it and leave in a warm place for 24 hours before using it. Harness should be oiled or greased while still damp, otherwise it may take up so much grease that it will put out of shape or take up sand and grit. For heavy harness use liberally a mixture of tallow and cod oil, neat's foot oil and tallow or any or all of these with wool grease, to make a paste having about the consistency of butter. Rub the oil or grease, warm to the hand, thoroughly into the leather while it is still damp from the washing. After the harness has hung in a warm room overnight, remove the excess of oil with a clean, dry cloth.

BROADCASTERS URGED TO KEEP ORDER IN AIR

To Prevent Chaos, Harbord Urges Broadcasters Support Department of Commerce Radio Policies.

New York.—In connection with the opinion of Attorney General Sargent holding that the Department of Commerce is without legal authority to control the radio, General James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, issued a statement in which he characterized the opinion handed down as "unfortunate."

His statement follows: "The decision of Attorney General Sargent with regard to the authority of the Department of Commerce to regulate radio broadcasting stations is unfortunate, in one sense, but perhaps enduring if it may serve to impress our legislators with the great need for sound radio legislation. The radio industry has knocked at the door of Congress through the Department of Commerce for constructive radio legislation for considerable time.

Will Back Commerce Policies Failure of the Congress in the past to enact suitable laws has been met by representatives of the radio industry in meeting in four annual conferences with the Secretary of Commerce and informally agreeing among themselves to a temporary plan of wavelength allocation, station power rating, hours of operation and other pertinent considerations. I haven't the slightest doubt that the fair and responsible men who have met at these conferences at Washington will continue to stand behind the splendid emergency program which they and the Department of Commerce conceived and agreed upon.

"The Radio Corporation of America will steadfastly maintain its policy of strictly observing the present wavelength assignments and it is believed that all broadcasters who are interested in furnishing the radio public with satisfactory service will do the same.

Chaos in the Air a Possibility "We should not overlook the fact that we are all striving to serve millions of radio listeners. To arbitrarily appropriate the wavelength of one's broadcasting neighbor will result in interference and chaos in the air, rendering reception by the listener unsatisfactory and perhaps precipitate a situation where the listener will find great difficulty in his efforts to separate programs at the receiving end. While this may not come to pass, nevertheless, the possibility of such a condition should serve to impress upon the American public the vital need of radio laws and regulations.

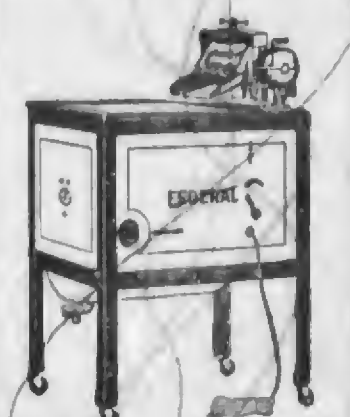

"Meanwhile, the industry should not take Attorney General's decision as a signal to depart from the accepted and efficient arrangements of the present. Responsible broadcasting interests will not, I am sure."

Important Announcement

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE SERVICE CHANGES

Applying only to messages to points outside the State of Illinois.

Effective October 1, 1926

Reductions in Long Distance Rates

To points 150 miles or more distant the rates will be substantially reduced. The greater the distance, the greater the reduction. For example, from Antioch to Detroit the basic station-to-station rate will be $1.45 instead of $1.70; to Pittsburg, $2.25 instead of $2.95, to New York, $3.55 instead of $4.90; to San Francisco, $8.10 instead of $11.70. A few rates for distances between 24 and 110 miles will be adjusted to make the schedule consistent throughout, but in these cases the increase of the basic station-to-station rate will be only five cents.

Reversed Charges on Station-to-Station Calls

Heretofore the reversal of charges has been available only on person-to-person calls. As a further convenience to the public this privilege will be extended to station-to-station calls where the rate is 25 cents or more.

Longer Reduced Rate Period on Station-to-Station Calls.

Reduced rate hours for station-to-station calls will begin at 7 P. M. instead of 8:30 P. M., as formerly. Between 7 and 10 P. M. the discount will be approximately 25 per cent of the day station-to-station rates; from 8:30 P. M. to 4:30 A. the discount will be about 50 per cent of the day rates. These discounts will apply where the day station-to-station rate is 40 cents or more, with a minimum reduced rate of 35 cents. Because of the unsatisfactory service conditions which is brought about, the existing midnight discount will be discontinued.

The net result of these rate changes will be a saving to the telephone users of the United States of approximately $3,000,000 a year. The service changes are made in the interests of public convenience, to relieve the burden now imposed by the congestion of business at midnight and to furnish still better long distance service.

* Application has been filed by the Company with the Illinois Commerce Commission to make the same changes in rates between Illinois points. Notice will be given to the Company's subscribers when and if such rates become effective.

could get three out. They gamely tried to rally after that, scoring twice in the eighth but couldn't overcome the big lead which the boys made in the sixth and seventh. Bill Halwas batted out a long home run in the eighth for the longest hit of the day. Bill Steininger with 4 hits and a walk out of five attempts was the outstanding batter of the day. It has been rumored around town that the Giants deliberately let the Antioch team win but they couldn't maintain their high reputation by doing business that way. Some men met quite heavily against the locals and they were probably peeved because they lost. They certainly showed very poor sportsmanship because the figures show that Antioch deserved to win.

Next Sunday Antioch will travel to Waukegan and tangle with the John's Manville Co. team. This team has won 14 out of the last 15 games and a good game is assured. It is hoped that a large crowd will follow the team. This game will be called at 2:15 daylight savings time, because the Cosover Boosters and the North Shore Athletics, a strong colored team from North Chicago will play the second half of the bargain bill, immediately afterwards.

The Antioch team is composed mostly of local fellows, who are playing just for the fun they get out of the game. The pitching has been very good, and combined with heavy stick work has tended to make up for only mediocre fielding. But the boys are practicing twice a week and the fielding will undoubtedly improve. A glance at the figures below will show who the heavy hitters are:

Special for Labor Day Sept. 6 at Antioch

The management has been fortunate in obtaining the Valmar team, representing the New City of Valmar by the Lake, at Camp Lake for Labor Day. This team is backed by the owners of that subdivision and have won 12 out of 13 games, including a 3-2 decision over Happy's Candy Kids, champions of Racine. Everybody come-out and support the home town boys.

Love of Praise

In a word, we mean the gratification of our thirst for applause. That thirst, if the last infirmity of noble minds, is also the first infirmity of weak ones; and, on the whole, the strongest impulsive influence of average humanity: the greatest efforts of the race have always been traceable to the love of praise, as its greatest catastrophes to the love of pleasure.—Ruskin.

Junior Scales

Ruth was fond of music, and wished to take piano lessons, but her mother thought she was too young. "I might begin with junior scales," urged the little girl. "With what?" asked her mother, greatly perplexed. "The junior scales," corrected Ruth. "Really? I am big enough to learn to play junior scales!"

Foxes Love Cheese

Cheese is good, hearty food, and most animals that are not herbivorous will eat it whenever they get a chance, but it is surprising to learn, from a writer in Field and Stream, that a captive fox can be coaxed into eating cheese, even when every other attempt to tease his appetite fails.

Hearsay Information

People in our town are not able to travel much, but are good listeners when anyone returns from a trip, and pick up about as much information as there is to be had. Likewise few of us are able to devote all our time to reading, but we have a few men who do, and they tell us what the books contain.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Ancient Hebrew Book

The Book of Jasher is a lost book of Hebrew national songs celebrating heroes. Two Old Testament passages are taken from it: The standing still of the sun, and David's lament over Saul and Jonathan.

Elephant Dying Out

The elephant is the last of his kind, the offspring of the mastodon and the mammoth. Africa is the last stronghold of these large animals, but they are in a fair way of extinction like many other species of wild beast and bird. About 20,000 elephants are killed annually for their ivory and they cannot multiply rapidly enough to keep up with the slaughter.

Old World Charm Meets New World Conveniences

PLACING your house according to your lot is the privilege of the person who builds this practical dwelling of the English farm house type. The entrance is so arranged that the house may either be placed lengthwise for a thirty-foot city lot or crosswise for a 60 or 75 foot lot.

The three bedrooms all have double exposures and are well provided with closets and linen closets. The bathroom is so placed as to be equally accessible from each bedroom. The attic is ventilated and makes a serviceable storage or playroom by sheathing the rafters and sides with celotex, which serves both as a wall-board and insulating material.

This small home so light and spacious, yet compact and adapted to doing without a servant, is a typical 1926 product. The cozy, dark porch with their fussy little hallways and expect comfort built right into her home and to her convenience in working. Cold, draughty houses are also out of date. All exterior walls under the stucco. This effects a great saving in fuel in the winter and resists the intense heat of the sun in summer.
